Why Should I Care? The Twelfth of Never

The song “The Twelfth of Never” can be a fitting theme song for a procrastinator, as it talks about a future date that will never arrive and represents the endless postponement of tasks.

Do Not Procrastinate

“Never put off until tomorrow what you can put off until the day after.” Following Mark Twain’s advice might have you missing year-end deadlines and singing the procrastination blues.

Meeting the deadlines for fiscal year-end processes will facilitate accurate year-end reporting by ensuring that transactions are recorded in the appropriate fiscal year. The year-end deadlines and processes began in May. Your assistance with meeting the deadlines is critical.

When Are the Deadlines?

A consolidated view of the fiscal year-end closing deadlines and processes for FY 2025 is available here. The Business Affairs Calendar also provides all of the important dates, reminders and deadlines for all departments within Business Affairs. You can access the calendar from the Business Affairs portal tab under Commonly Used Links.

Start now - get organized and plan ahead. Don't wait until the twelfth of never or you'll be singing the blues.

Need to Know! Order Now, Save Money!

The TTUHSC Printing Center is ready to assist with all of your printing, promotional, and mailing needs. The time is now. There are several advantages to ordering in June:

- Ensure your FY 2025 funds are utilized
- Avoid price increases due to anticipated tariffs
- Reduce stress by having items in advance of your event
- Take advantage of reduced costs by allowing more time to shop for a better deal, avoiding rush production and expedited shipping charges

The deadline for billing items for FY 2025 is August 29th; however, the completion date determines which fiscal year funding is utilized. Any job completed on or before August 29th will be billed to the current fiscal year. Any job completed after this date will be billed to FY 2026.

Place your printing orders at PressWise and find available promotional items at PromoPlace.

For questions, email PrintingCenter@ttuhsc.edu or PromoPlace@ttuhsc.edu.
